RECORD.

The company was formerly known as the 24th Separate Company, National Guard, New York. In response to the call of the President, the company marched out of its armory at 2 o'clock on the morning of Monday, May 2, 1898, boarding a special train on the Erle Railroad, en route to Camp. Black, Hemostead, Long Island, the rendezvous for the troops of the National Guard of New York State. Upon the arrival of the train at Jersey City, the company, with other troops from the western part of the State, was transferred to Long Island City via the Eric ferry boat, John McCullough; thence via the Long Island Railroad to Camp Black, where the company was assigned to duty as Company I, of the First Regiment Infantry, New York Volunteers, Col. Thomas H. Barber commanding.

The Regiment was composed of the following companies of the Na-

M, formerly 14th Sep. Co., of Kingston, N. Y. The regiment was mustered into the service of the United States May 20th, 1898, and on June 11th, 1898, was assigned to garrison the forts in New Vork Harbor. Company I with Companies K, I., M and E, were assigned to Fort Hamilton. The transfer was made via the Long Island Railroad to Long Island City, thence via boat to the Government docks at Fort Hamilt ton. The company had settled down to the routine of garrison duty when on buly 1st, orders were received assigning the regiment to duty at Porto Rico. Two days afterwards these orders were rescinded and the regiment was ordered to report to the Commander of the 8th Army Corps at San Francisco, California, from which place it was expected that the regiment would be ordered to Manila. Early on the morning of July 7th camp was broken at Fort Hamilton and the journey to San Francisco commenced. The regiment was mobilized at Jersey City, being transferred by boat from the several stations. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon Company I boarded the first section of the train and started westward via the Eric Railroad, passing through its home station, Middletown, where an immense crowd had gathered, to hid the soldiers Godspeed. The journey to the Golden Gate was made in six days, via the following route: New York to Chicago via the Erie, to Omaha via the Great Northwestern, to Ogden, Utah, via the Union Pacific, and to San Francisco via the Southern Pacific. Arriving at San Francisco on the morning of July 13th, the company marched to Camp Merritt, remaining there two days, when the regiment was moved to the Presidio of San Francisco, where it remained until August 5, 1898. Early on the morning of that date Companies I. K. L. M and C broke camp at Presidio, and at 50'clock in the evening boarded the steamer Charles Nelson, en route to Honolulu. Hawaiian Islands, where garrison duty was to be performed. The vessel anchored in the harbor during the night and at 6 o'clock on the morning of August 6th set sail for Honolulu, arriving there Sunday evening, August 14th, at 6 o'clock. The next day the detachment marched into camp at Kapiolani Park, and upon the arrival of the balance of the regiment, three weeks later, moved to Camp McKinley, at the foot of Diamond Head, an extinct volcano, and the priveipal land mark of the island of Oahu, upon which the city of Honolulu is located. About Nov. 3d, the site of the camp was changed to Waiselse, a distance of 71/2 miles from Honofulu. On November 29th Companies I, A, B, D and L boarded the steamship Australia, homeward bound, in accordance with orders received on Nov. 23. Arrived at San Francisco December 6, 1898, just four months after date of departure for Honolulu. The company again went into camp at the Presidio until Dec. 15th, when the companies above mentioned boarded train for their home stations, Companies I and L forming the first section. The eastward route was over the following lines: Southern Pacific to Ogden; Denver & Rio Grande to Denver; Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, to Chicago; Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, to Buffalo: New York Central & Hudson River R. R. to Fishkill; ferry to Newburgh, and Eric to Middletown, arriving at 6 o'clock p. m., Decei her 21st, 1898. The company was granted a two month's furlough and was mustered out of the service February 18, 1899.

Entire Philippine Group to Be Brought Under Our Rule.

Government at Washington Alms to Strike a Decisive Blow in the More Important Islands Simultaneously-A Conciliatory Policy.

DEWEY WAITING FOR GUNBOATS.

WASHINGTON, Feb 18 -The administration has determined rapidly to extend the jurisdiction of the United States over the whole of the Philippine group, acting on the theory that delay in this case is dangerous and that an interests as the islands support will be brought about through a failure promptly to replace the Spanish sovereignty over the islands by that of the Unite States This decision involves the necessity of a payal campaign and this will be in ceives the re-enforcements in the shap of gunboats now on their way to Ma It is not anticipated that there will be a necessity for any formidable demon stration but the very fact that the United States government is able to ex hibit sufficient strength to accompli the purpose of occupation is expected to deter the natives from profitless resist ance. Owing to the vast number of th gunboats would be required to visit them simultaneously, so that the pro gramme will be to have the vessels visit in order the principal towns outside of Manila, especially those where Spanish garrisons were maintained on the island of Cebu and at Zamboango, on the is land of Mindanao, and some of the citie of Negros The naval vessels will probably be ac-necessary to host the United States flag and take possession formally of the ports. It is understood that there will be no attempt made at this time to dis place any of the existing municipal governments except where they prove refractory and offer resistance. In fact, a policy of concibation will be followed at all points in the treatment of the na Waterworks Guard Attacked. MANILA, Feb 18 -- The guard of the

ON THE TIP OF THE TONGUE

Conductor Robert Barnes, of this city. and Benjamin Ryall, ex-postmaster of Port Jervis, and formerly superintendent of the Monticello road, were at the James street station, Thursday, discussing engines. Said Conductor Barnes:

the milcoald folks had only known the power of a single engine ten years ago as well as they know it now what money they would have made. One Cooke engine pulling a train of twentynane curs with a capacity of tentous forms erly struggled to get over the hill. The same engine now pulls the same number of cars with a capacity thrice as great."

The Bonapartist leaders met yester day afternoon here, and it is certain that some important move was being considered.

Many of the best informed people here believe that the meeting was to draw up a manifesto. For some time it has been known that Prince Victor has been, like Dickens' Micawber, "waiting for something to turn up," and this un-expected vacancy in the French presidency appears to have presented the best opportunity for coming out boldly.
